

TOXNET Resources for Environmental Health

TOXNET Home Page	http://toxnet.nlm.nih.gov
Environmental Health Portal	https://sis.nlm.nih.gov/enviro.html
Which Resource Should I Use?	https://sis.nlm.nih.gov/enviro/decisionguide.html
Pathways for Public Health Information	https://sis.nlm.nih.gov/pathway.html
<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Selected links to information on environmental health and toxicology, disasters, chemicals, drugs, and special populations</li></ul>

Select TOXNET Databases for Consumer Health

TOXMAP

Geographic representation of TRI data with links to other TOXNET resources

Household Products Database

Safety and health information for products used in and around the home

Dietary Supplement Label Database

Manufacturer information and health benefit claims for nutritional supplements

Haz-Map

Links jobs and hazardous tasks with occupational diseases and their symptoms

Tox Town (<https://toxtown.nlm.nih.gov/>)

Safety and health information for student, educators, and the general public